

Wpisany przez Michał Ozon

sobota, 25 marca 2017 08:51 - Poprawiony sobota, 25 marca 2017 08:54

Wpisany przez Michał Ozon

sobota, 25 marca 2017 08:51 - Poprawiony sobota, 25 marca 2017 08:54

The image is a promotional poster for the board game "Hannibal & Hamilcar". It features a dark background with a faint image of a battle scene. On the left, there is a blue-tinted image of a Carthaginian warrior miniature. In the center, the title "HANNIBAL & HAMILCAR" is written in large, gold, serif letters. Below the title, the name "HAMILCAR BARCA" is prominently displayed in gold, followed by "(c. 275 - 228 BC)" and the nickname ("Thunderbolt") in parentheses. To the right of the name, a list of his achievements is written in gold: "Leader of the Barcid family.", "Defender of Sicilia.", "Conqueror of Iberia.", and "Father to Hannibal, Hasdrubal and Mago." A green "KICK STARTER" badge is placed next to this list. Below the achievements, a line of small white text states: "The game contains large, 40 mm scale, plastic leader miniatures in 16 different sculpts!". On the right side of the poster, there is a full-color illustration of a Carthaginian warrior in traditional armor, holding a sword and a shield. In the top right corner, the logos for "PHALANX" and "MEXY STUDIO" are visible. At the bottom right, it says "Coming on Kickstarter on April 19th."

MARK SIMONITCH'S

HANNIBAL

&
HAMILCAR

HAMILCAR BARCA

(c. 275 - 228 BC) ("Thunderbolt")

Leader of the Barcid family.
Defender of Sicilia.
Conqueror of Iberia.
Father to Hannibal,
Hasdrubal and Mago.

KICK STARTER

Coming on Kickstarter
on April 19th.

The game contains large, 40 mm scale, plastic leader miniatures in 16 different sculpts!

PHALANX
MEXY STUDIO

<https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/131111/hannibal-rome-vs-carthage>